Arlington Comedians

Phelan opera house, May 25 and 26. What is recognized as the best stock company playing the circuit of the large cities of the west—The Arlington Comedians—will be at the Phelan opera house for two nights commencing Tuesday, May 25. They will open with the great comedy-melodrama in four acts entitled "A Runaway Tramp." The Salt Lake Deseret News of a recent date says: "The Grand theatre is fortunate in being able to retain such an all around good company as Manager Arlington offers. They inaugurated their second week on Sunday with a fine presentation of the melodramatic comedy, "A Runaway Tramp," to an audience that filled every available seat, and gave their emphatic seal of approval to the performance by the heartiest applause. The play is a clean, southern play of home life, with just enough melodrama to admit of several strikingly effective stage settings, and a number of intense situations, which are thoroughly well handled. A brilliant specialty by the three clever vaudeville children made an emphatic hit. It was a very enjoyable production, and will undoubtedly draw the fullest patronage during the week, as it deserves it." During their engagement here there will be a change of play and specialties each evening. Prices will be 50c-35c-25c. Reserved seats on sale at Holsten's.

Automobile Accident

An automobile accident occurred last Tuesday evening about one mile south of town during the rain storm. The car was running about ten miles an hour over the slippery road when suddenly it skidded and turned almost completely around overturning and upsetting the occupants in the mud. No one was hurt but the machine was damaged considerably. The occupants were: Messrs. Norman McCorkle and Harold Thomas, and the Misses Mabel Worley and Ruth Rice.

Five Hundred Party

Last week Mrs. Percy Cogswell issued invitations to a five hundred party, which was held at her residence Saturday afternoon. The invitations were unique, consisting of cards on one corner of which was a photograph of the hostess and on the opposite corner a photograph of her residence. About fifty lady guests were present and we are informed they all enjoyed the occasion very much. The first prize, consisting of a hand painted plate, was won by Mrs. F. M. Broome and the consolation prize, a spoon tray, by Mrs. Wm. Eubanks of Bridgeport, who came to Alliance to attend the party.

High School Will Play Sidney

On Saturday the high school base ball team will cross bats with the Sidney high school team. Sidney has a strong team, and a good game is expected. This will probably be the only base ball game to be played here by the high school this season. Come out and root for your high school. Tickets can be procured from any high school student. Game to be played on city diamond.

A Collision

A collision occurred on Cheyenne avenue in Alliance last Monday that resulted in the death of a valuable horse. It was not a railroad accident but a collision of the delivery wagons of the Alliance Grocery company and Jas. Graham. The horse attached to the wagon of the former was pierced by the thill of the other wagon and fell dead.

A Gift to the Latin Department of the High School

Miss Lula Wirt of the Latin and German department of the high school was greatly surprised Wednesday morning by being presented a beautiful classic picture, size 24 by 48 inches, for the Latin room. There has been great interest in the Latin under Miss Wirt's supervision during the past two years. The Cicero class, as a token of their appreciation of the work, leave this picture as the permanent property of that department.

This gift, together with the normal training library given by the class of 1907, the gift of gymnasium apparatus by the alumni association and the athletic association, the high school piano by the high school a few years ago, amount to several hundred dollars. Students and teachers alike are proud of the new high school building and take a just pride in adding to its attractions.

The names of those donating the picture of the Roman Forum are indicated by the card attached bearing the following:

"To the Alliance high school, complimentary to Miss Wirt, from the Cicero class of 1909.

Hazel Bowman Anna Heath
Josephine Hampton Leilah Reed
Winifred Spacht Virginia Broome
Minnie Reed Maude Clark
Ethel James Frances Bowman
Ethel Johnston Lura Vance
Vera Boyer Lyle Mewhirter"

Railroad Built to Broadwater

The railroad track was laid into Broadwater today, midway between Lisco and Northport. The laying of the steel is being pushed right along and the track will be laid into Northport by the first of June. A car of laborers for the grading gang was shipped up Wednesday evening and every train is heavily loaded with construction material. It is all conjecture whether the road will be built on up the valley this summer, but everything looks favorable that the work will not stop at Northport. With the line completed into Northport we will get a daily train both ways and mail service.—Oshkosh Herald.

An exchange says: "A temperance writer claims that the moving picture shows have proven powerful enemies to the saloons. The theory advanced is that the saloon gets a large part of its patronage from the poor people who use it as a club room. The five and ten cent shows have furnished a convenient and entertaining substitute. If this claim is true the picture shows should receive the moral support of temperance people." If the above theory is correct Alliance should be a temperance town no matter how many saloons we may have. There are now three moving pictures shows with a prospect of a fourth.

Mrs. English of 614 Big Horn Ave., will open a class for the study of music the first of June. She is prepared to give the Efa Ellis Illustrated Music Course or private lessons on the piano. The work is especially good for beginners giving by an interesting and comprehensive method a thorough foundation which is essential in preparation or co-operation with work on any instrument or with the voice. Any one interested in music is invited to call upon Mrs. English for more information and particulars. Pupils may enroll on or before June 1st. Number limited. An evening class for benefit persons employed will be held.
